WISCONSIN.

Wisconsin, W. Va., August 8.—The campaign in this city was opened on Saturday night by the Republicans holding a large meeting in Washington Hall, under the auspices of the Grant and Colfax clubs. Hon. John S. Hagans, of Ohio, and Hon. W. S. Stevenson, for governor candidate, for Governor of the State, were the speakers.

CAROLINA.

Charleston, S. C., August 8.—The Democratic Electoral Convention adjourned yesterday. Every district of the State, thirty-one in number, was represented. On motion of Mr. Hampton, Captain Mobley was made Vice President of the Convention. A committee from the Soldiers and Sailors' Convention was invited to come on the platform and greet assemblage. On motion of Judge Aldrich, a committee of three, with the name of the Democracy of South Carolina, was appointed to the acquaintance from the North, East and northwest, to whom the Southern delegation are indebted for their kind reception in this city. We accept the reception as an evidence of cordiality and sincerity, and gratefully declare that it has done much to heal the bitterness of the past, and to unite them the war. Other resolutions indorse the platform adopted by the National Democratic Convention, express gratitude to Judge Johnson, Governor Parker, Senator Van Winkle, and to the citizens and sailors of the north who made their voice in behalf of the united and enraged action, the election of Mr. Seymour. It [illegible]

Wade Hampton made a speech, in which, alluding to the recent reported utterances of the secretary in reference to Northern [illegible] in reference to the Confederate flag, he declared that he considered it in the highest honor, on the contrary, when I spoke of the flag of the Confederacy, I remarked it was the flag of the dead, to be buried in the grave of the lost cause. The preceding was accordingly carried unanimously.

Nick and Nell. Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by Home Miner, Pittsburgh. One of those interesting books by fellow cyclic, whose name is well known as an engaging writer for boys. The contents of this work are the adventures of a street boy, who runs the world for himself and passes through many interesting scenes, mostly out of the "bright end of the town." The story is well told and will be a favorite with youthful readers.

Tommy Hastings. By Rose Abbott. Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by Home Miner, Pittsburgh. One of Rose Abbott's charming stories for children.

Golden Deeds. Lee & Shepard, Boston, for sale by H. Miner, Pittsburgh. A collection, for a present, being selections from choice authors, containing gems of thought on Christian life and duties. Almost as useless as to suppose a suffering, often, to be slight or frozen, as a vocation, leaving its special duties and offering its special graces. Say seven-tenths of it. Here for the present lies the allotted task, if you can! Consider how much deep he made of this period, how largely it may be improved to God's service and the salvation. It is the just to which does act appointed, such as to accept it cheerfully and happily; and more good shall accrue to them from it than from what they have fallen in regard as the line of service of these own choosing." The professors by the compiler, C. A. B., is well appropriate: "May these words, like quickly strengthen the inner life in your soul, and notwithstanding the trials to be met, may the Christian's joy and peace abide with you. May you love to seek for Christ and find the unfailing friend ever ever omnipotent and guide." There only can rest out in the heavenly Home at last, every longing satisfied."

Carolan the Harp of his Race. By Miss Douglass. Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by H. Miner, Pittsburgh. This highly toned moral novel has many rare parts to the story of a country as well as of a race. The writer has been peculiarly happy in her choice of passages from authors, illustrating the need of carrying on a thoroughly noble.

"There are many things in your life which, as I said before, cannot be explained to you now, but which you will understand by and by. Be patient, and wait. Be sure that God is leading you, and that He will lead you right. Only trust Him, and do not be afraid. Do not be afraid to love Him with all your heart, and to show your love. Do not be afraid to love your fellow-creatures, and to show your love. Do not be afraid to love your fellow-creatures, and to show your love. Do not be afraid to love your fellow-creatures

Brown Accepts Coulter's Challenge to a Race on the Monongahela--The Preliminaries to be Arranged in New York.

Coulter and Gordon Jackson Agree to Row Brown and Tyler a Double Scull Race--Single Scull Challenge from Gordon Jackson--Aquatic Sports at Home.

Yesterday's Review contains a card from Harry Brown, in reference to the proposed single scull race for the championship between himself and William Brown, in which in advance to the proposition that the race should come off either on the Schuylkill, at Philadelphia, or on the Passaic, at Newark, he will row on the Monongahela river, at Pittsburgh. Mr. Coulter now comes to the front and says that he and Gordon Jackson will row Brown and John Tyler, Jr., a double scull race on the Monongahela river, the same course as the proposed single scull race, for the championship of the United States, for five hundred dollars a side, and the championship belt. Mr. Coulter also challenges Brown to a single scull race, for the championship, between August 20th and September 1st, on the Monongahela river, for five hundred dollars a side, and the championship belt. Mr. Coulter also says that he and Gordon Jackson will row Brown and Tyler, or either of the two, a double scull race, for the championship, between August 20th and September 1st, on the Monongahela river, for five hundred dollars a side, and the championship belt. Mr. Coulter also says that he and Gordon Jackson will row Brown and Tyler, or either of the two, a double scull race, for the championship, between August 20th and September 1st, on the Monongahela river, for five hundred dollars a side, and the championship belt.
